Use Cases

Global or Remote Workforce

The rapid growth of remote and mobile workers is placing pressure on IT to provide fast and easy access to corporate applications and data to the device of their choice. With UnitedLayer's Desktop-as-a-Service lets you deliver applications and data seamlessly to all of your workers, including contractors, seasonal workers and developers.

Software Test and Development

UnitedLayer's DaaS provides you with the ability to quickly add additional resources or tools required by your developers or test teams for completing tasks quickly. This flexibility enables the rapid scaling of desktops and apps to accommodate evolving needs quickly.

Faster and Easier Deployment

With UnitedLayer's Desktop-as-a-Service, companies are no longer required to spend days or weeks onboarding new employees or bringing them up to speed with the desktop. UnitedLayer's DaaS allows companies to provide all the necessary rights and permissions to employees in a matter of hours to keep them productive.

Mergers and Acquisitions

Companies going through merger or acquisition, supporting many new employees with access to corporate applications and data in a fast and cost-effective way is important. UnitedLayer's DaaS can help you to quickly provide secure access needed by new employees and keep them productive.
